Blogging

Definitions

A blog (a contraction of the term "web log") is a type of website, usually maintained by an individual with regular entries of commentary, descriptions of events, or other material such as graphics or video. Entries are commonly displayed in reverse-chronological order. "Blog" can also be used as a verb, meaning to maintain or add content to a blog.

About

There are many different kinds of blog and you “don’t have to be a techie to do it”

Source: Schelly Tallaly Dardashti in an interview with Lisa Louise Cooke for Family History Made Easy Podcast #39: You don't have to be a techie to blog!"

Genealogy & family history blogging is a great way to share your experiences and findings with other researchers and potentially to connect with long lost relatives. You can also pass on your own research experiences. As GeneaBlogger Amy Coffin notes “All genealogists should blog. We are not islands. So many other folks out there have information to share. You don't have to be an expert writer. Just get your surnames out there. You'll be surprised at what you find...or who finds you.
